NUMBER 75

CORRESPONDENCE

THAT HAS PASSED

Between Judge H. C. Howard and
Hon. J. Hal. Woodford in Past Few Days.

Paris, Ky., Oct. 19, 1907.

Dear Sir:—As the nominees of the Democratic and Republican parties for Representative from Bourbon County to the next General Assembly of Kentucky, I propose that we enter into an agreement, pledging our sacred honor, that in the canvass for said office, neither of us shall use money, whisky, or other thing of value, either in person, or through any agency, for the purpose of influencing a voter.

I make this proposition in order (first) that the character and intelligence of the people may determine who shall be their Representative; and (second) for the honor of Bourbon County, that her Representative's right to a seat in that body may not be by a tainted title.

Believing that you will reciprocate my desire that the election shall be free from frauds, I hope that you will name representatives to act with Messrs. Thomas Henry Clay, Jr. and J. D. Booth, who bear this letter, and that they may have your answer, through their kindness, not later than 12 o'clock, m., on October 21, 1907.

Respectfully,
(Signed) H. CLAY HOWARD.
Hon. J. Hal. Woodford,
Paris, Kentucky.

Paris, Ky., Oct. 21, 1907

Hon. H. C. Howard,
Paris, Kentucky.

Dear Sir:—Your communication of the 19th instant received, and, coming from one of your acknowledged standing in this community, caused me considerable surprise.

I know you to be a man of honor and surely there is nothing in my past record, either personal or political, which could cause you to hold any different opinion of me, even though we differ politically. You ask me, as the nominee of the Democratic party for Representative, to enter into an agreement with you, the nominee of the Republican party for the same office, not to use money, whisky, or other thing of value for the purpose of influencing voters in the coming election. If it is incumbent upon you and me, rival aspirants for the honorable position of lawmaker, to do as you suggest, it would seem that one or both of the political parties into his county have made a grave mistake in the selection of their candidates. You, as a lawyer, must know that practices such as you mention are prohibited and made a penal offense by the Kentucky Statutes, and I feel sure that you will, upon reflection, agree with me when I say that your proposition for me to agree with you that neither of us will violate the law of the land, is a strange one to be made by one gentleman to another. I can only infer that your desire to make some sort of political capital has caused you to take a step that your own judgment must condemn.

I was born in Bourbon County, and my life has been spent among its people; they know my few good qualities and are familiar with my all too numerous shortcomings. During all of the past years, I have obeyed the law and I think that I can justly lay claim to the reputation of being a law-abiding citizen. It is unnecessary, under the circumstances, for me to enter into any such agreement as you propose, as I feel sure that the honest, intelligent and unpurchasable voters of Bourbon County, upon whose support I confidently rely at the coming election, require no such pledge from me and I will not insult them and stultify myself by making one. For these reasons, I must decline to enter into the agreement suggested in your letter, leaving to you the satisfaction, if any, of making what political capital you can out of such refusal. Assuring you of my high regard, I am,

Very Respectfully,
J. HAL WOODFORD.

Paris, Ky., Oct. 21, 1907.

Dear Sir:—I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of this date, in which you decline to enter into the agreement proposed by me.

I addressed you as the nominee of a political party. In response, you inject your personality. Your reason for so refusing is based upon the statement that you are a law-abiding citizen and a gentleman. There is, on that account, all the more reason why you should accept, and not reject, my proposition. You were not asked to violate the law, nor to agree to do anything that a law-abiding citizen, and a gentleman, ought not to do. Surely, no honest man could be "insulted" by such a "pledge" on your part.

Your letter does not declare your purpose. In order that there may be no misunderstanding, or further evasion of a declaration of your purpose, as to the plane upon which you propose to conduct the pending canvass, I now ask: will you, or not, use money, whisky, or other thing of value, in person, or through others, in an attempt to control the result of the coming election—yes, or no?

I give you another opportunity to answer, requesting that there be no delay beyond the 23rd instant.
Respectfully,
(Signed) H. CLAY HOWARD.
Hon. J. Hal. Woodford.

Paris, Ky., Oct. 21, 1907.

Dear Sir:—As the candidates of our respective political parties I should be pleased to agree with you upon a series of joint debates, to continue until the November election, upon the issues of the day.

Kindly reply, not later than the 23rd instant, in order that our respective committees may agree upon dates and places of speaking, to be as soon as convenient.

Respectfully,
(Signed) H. CLAY HOWARD.
Hon. J. Hal. Woodford.

Paris, Ky., Oct. 24, 1907.

Hon. H. C. Howard,
Paris, Ky.

Dear Sir:—Your communication of the 21st instant just received, and while the phraseology is slightly changed, it differs in no material way from that of your letter of the 19th instant.

In reply, I can only say that my reasons for declining to enter into the agreement suggested by you were fully stated in my letter of the 21st instant, and to these already given, I have none to add.

Very respectfully,
J. HAL WOODFORD.

The above correspondence explains itself, and the answers of the Hon. J. Hal. Woodford, the Democratic nominee, to Judge H. C. Howard, the Republican nominee, are plainly and will be satisfactory to every Democratic voter in Bourbon County. The idea of two gentlemen, running to represent Bourbon County in the Legislature, agreeing to not violate the law. It is all buncombe, a mere political trick, and a bad one at that. In fact, it is an insult to the voters of Bourbon County for a man to want such an agreement with his opponent. We do not think that the voters of old Bourbon can be bought like a lot of sheep, and for a Republican candidate to insinuate such a thing, as is done in the first letter addressed to Mr. Woodford in this correspondence is enough to make every Democrat in the county take off his coat and give the nominee a majority long to be remembered by these squealing Republicans.

Jack Leyburn Sold.

One of the best horse sales of the year was made at Lexington Wednesday, when Edward and Joseph Madden, sons of John E. Madden, sold their crack trotter, Jack Leyburn, to Thomas Graddy, of Philadelphia, for $10,000. Jack Leyburn won the Walnut Hall cup during the recent trotting meeting in 2:09 and finished third in the Transylvania. Earlier in the season he finished second in Charter Oak stake at Hartford, Conn.

MATRIMONIAL.

KENNEY-BUCKNER.

The scene of a very brilliant wedding was that of Mr. Clarence Kenney and Miss Lucy Buckner, which was solemnized in the Second Presbyterian church Wednesday evening. The beautiful and impressive ceremony was said by the Rev. E. H. Rutherford, pastor of the church.

The church, which has recently been remodeled and refurnished was elaborately decorated for the occasion with stately palms and ferns with hundreds of sweet rosebuds and smilax intertwined throughout. The center aisle was made into a perfect pathway into fairyland, for on either side were tall posts elaborately covered with smilax and roses, while at the top a tall lighted candle finished each.

Immediately in front of the chancel a canopy of smilax and roses with an arch over all holding the massive wedding bell of the same fragrant flowers appeared, as it were, as a protection for the happy bride and groom beneath.

During the assembling of the guests a delightful program of wedding music was rendered by Miss Frances Johnson, who is a very talented musician. Mrs. Owen Davis sang several solos and the songs "Roses, Roses, Everywhere," "Give Me Thy Love," and "For Love of Thee," were never so beautiful as when sung by Mrs. Davis, as the bridal chorus from Lohengrin began, the bridal party entered the center aisle. First came the groomsmen, Mr. James Buckner and Dr. William Kenney Dudley, Mr. James Dodge and Mr. William Kenney Ferguson; then came the bridesmaids, Miss Elizabeth Embry and Miss Lorine Butler, Miss Sue Buckner and Miss Helen Frank, Miss Mary Woodford and Miss Amanda Yerkes, Miss Margaret Spahr, of Winchester and Miss Sallie Morgan, of Lexington.

Preceding the bride with her maid of honor, Miss Clay Croxton, of Winchester, came Mrs. Thomas Buckner, dame of honor, alone. From the side aisle came the bridegroom, Mr. Clarence Kenney and his best man, Mr. Edwin Sweeney.

The bride was lovely in her wedding gown of pearl satin, elaborately trimmed in old lace. The long tulle veil reached to the end of the train was caught up with a wreath of lilies of the valley and a jeweled sunburst, an heirloom of the Buckner family. Her bouquet was of lilies of the valley.

The dame of honor wore her wedding gown of white net and lace and carried a bouquet of American beauty roses. The maid of honor wore a handsome gown of yellow crepe de chine and carried a bouquet of Marchioness roses. The bridesmaids wore dainty gowns of white Paris muslin, elaborately trimmed in lace and carried bouquets of yellow roses.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Buckner and is one of Bourbon's most charming and lovable young girls, bright and attractive and quite a favorite socially.

The groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Kenney, and is one of Paris' most successful business men and is very popular both in business and social circles.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenney left on the 10:30 train for a two weeks' trip to Washington and New York.

The following announcement has been received: "Mr. and Mrs. George Henry Helme announce the marriage of their daughter, Louise, to Mr. Andrew Jackson Carter, on Tuesday, the twenty-second of October, one thousand and nine hundred and seven, Springfield, Illinois."

Mr. Carter is the youngest son of Mr. O. P. Carter, Sr., of this city, and is now one of the valued employees of the big Marshall Field store at Chicago. His many friends here wish him much happiness.

Our Candidate for Representative.

There is no sane reason that a Democrat can give for not going to the polls on November 5th and casting his vote for the Hon. J. Hal Woodford, candidate for re-election as Representative to the lower house of the Kentucky General Assembly.

He has demonstrated that he is safe on all propositions that is of interest to the taxpayers. He is conservative on all questions and it is simply ridiculous to hear of any Democrat that would vote for a Republican against a man of Mr. Woodford's caliber. He is an intelligent, courteous gentleman, a man of the highest integrity, a man that can be depended on in any of the walks of life, and last, but by no means least, a dyed-in-the-wool Democrat.

What more can anyone ask of a man? Surely his place in the Legislature can not be filled in any way by a Republican. If you have some little personal grievance with him, lay it aside and walk up to the polls and cast your vote for the Democratic nominee and you will have a better appetite and sleep saner for so doing.

Attachment Suit Filed.

In the Bourbon Circuit Court, Tuesday afternoon, Judge Denis Dundon, attorney for plaintiffs, filed suits asking for general order of attachment in favor of Bailey Arkle for the sum of $180.05, and in favor of John Arkle in sum of $100, against Miss Ida Arkle, who has been running a grocery on Second street.

Miss Arkle is the daughter of Bailey Arkle and the sister of John Arkle. The cause of the filing of these suits is as follows: Miss Arkle left home Monday afternoon without telling anyone that she was going away. She was finally located at her brother's home in Covington, and was called up over the long distance telephone, but declined to communicate with any member of her family or anyone else as to what she proposed doing. Under the circumstances, other creditors also clamoring for settlement, the father and brother filed the above suits to protect their claims against her. If she would have talked to them over the phone she would have been advised to make arrangements to return home.

Foot Cut Off by Train.

Wm. Lail, the fifteen-year-old son of Mr. T. Lail, of Kiserston, fell under a passenger train at Kiserston and had one of his feet cut off. Young Lail is a pupil of Prof. Costello, coming to school every morning on the early train from Cynthiana. He was a little late in reaching the station yesterday morning and the train was pulling out when the engineer saw him running down the hill waving his hand and he slowed up for him. The train had not come to a standstill when Lail reached it, and in attempting to jump aboard, slipped and fell under the wheels with the above result.

He was picked up and carried back to his home near by. In the same house Young Lail has a cousin whose leg was amputated about a week ago. Much sympathy is expressed for the young man by his acquaintances here.

The Joke On the Boys.

A number of young men endeavored to have a lot of so-called fun with the newly wedded couple, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kenney Wednesday night. They worked all day Wednesday in packing and decorating a trunk supposed to belong to Mr. Kenney and had it taken to the 10:30 train after the wedding, all of them being present to see the fun.

It so happened that the couple had sent their trunks ahead of them about two days before the wedding. Instead of going to Miss Owens' from the church for the bride to change her wedding gown for her traveling suit, the carriage was driven from the church to the Winchester pike, where an automobile with their valises awaited them. They were then quickly driven to the home of Mr. Asa Spahr, in Clark, where they made their changes and took the fast C. & O. at Winchester for Washington.

Mr. Hukill was in his eighty-first year, and was a remarkably well preserved man for one of his age. He came to Paris in 1855, and opened a merchant tailoring establishment and was for years noted throughout Central Kentucky for the high class of work he turned out. He was liked by all who knew him, courteous and genial gentleman at all times, a man of highest integrity and enjoyed the confidence of a large circle of friends.

He is survived by two sons, Chas. Hukill, of this city, and Wm. Hukill, of Louisville, and one daughter, Mrs. Laura Hanley, the widow of the late Grati Hanley, of Chicago, and two brothers, William Hukill, of this city, and Thomas Hukill, of Lexington.

LIVE STOCK AND CROP NOTES

—John Brophy sold to Thos. McClintock & Sons 33 fat hogs for delivery Nov. 10, for 6 cents per pound.

—W. A. Thomason bought at Mt. Sterling, Monday, 8 work mules at from $125 to $190 per head. Mr. Thomason sold this week to B. F. Hopkins 23 100-pound cattle at 4½ cents per pound.

—In Boyle, Glover Irvin's son, Robert, counted 1,550 grains of corn on one year. Count, some of you farmers, and see what is on your finest ear of corn.

—Next to corn hay is the greatest farm crop produced in the United States. High prices prevail for hay, and hay-making should be pushed with vigor by the farmers of the country.

—A bushel and a half of good seed wheat to the acre will produce far more satisfactory results if the land is properly prepared and is good wheat land, than a smaller quantity.

—Owen L. Davis, agent for Miss Matilda Alexander, has rented to Frank Buchanan and Brooks Clay, a farm of 400 acres, part of the Alexander farm, near Hutchison, this county, and now occupied by Hughes Bros.

—R. B. Hutchcraft bought recently fifty 50-pound heifers at 3 cents per pound and sixty-five 800-pound cattle at from 3½ to 3¾ cents per pound. Mr. Hutchcraft bought of Eads Bros. 400 barrels of new corn for $2.25 per barrel.

A kind word often does more good than a dollar—but most of us would rather take the money.

Latest Steps in the McClintock Damage Suit.

The latest steps taken in the J. D. McClintock damage suit against six members of the Bourbon County Republican Committee was on Tuesday afternoon when the Sheriff and his deputies arrested Wyatt A. Thompson, Secretary of the Republican County Committee, and Henry S. Clay and Chas. Hough members of said committee. There were four warrants issued from the Bourbon Circuit Court, the one against Henry Smith, colored, was not served, as we understand by request of Mr. McClintock.

It will be remembered that McClintock was given judgment for $1,500 in the Bourbon Circuit Court against each of the above named committee men. Several days after the finding of the verdict the defendants filed proceeding in bankruptcy in the United States Court and about ten days ago received their discharge. Attorneys for McClintock claimed that the nature of the above debt does not exempt them from paying same. The defendants were therefore arrested and placed in jail.

The attorney for Thompson and Clay, J. J. Williams, prepared the proper papers in habeas corpus proceedings and took them to Covington on the 5:30 train Wednesday morning to present them to Judge A. M. J. Cochran, of the Federal Court.

In the absence of United States Judge A. M. J. Cochran, who was absent from his district, Attorney Williams went before United States Circuit Judge J. K. Richards, in Cincinnati, and presented his petitions, which were an exhaustive review of the litigation in the Bourbon Circuit Court, terminating in a judgment for damages in the sum of $1,500 and costs for slander and subsequent proceedings in bankruptcy, in which the defendants had been finally discharged. Judge Richards promptly ordered the writ issued, the papers for which were made out in the office of J. C. Finnell, Clerk of the Court, and reached Paris in the mail arriving at 5:45 p. m. Wednesday, and were addressed to I. N. McDaniel, Deputy United States Marshal, who had arrived from Frankfort on the 3:30 p. m. Frankfort and Cincinnati train.

Mr. McDaniel served the papers on Jailor Geo. W. Judy shortly after 8 o'clock p. m. and then awaited the coming of the United States Commissioner Henry Wood, of Mt. Sterling, who had been communicated with by long distance telephone and who reached Paris on the 10 o'clock interurban car from Lexington. Mr. Wood, upon his arrival, went immediately to the law office of Hon. E. M. Dickson, in the Elks' building, who was in waiting and where the prisoners were brought by Deputy Marshal McDaniel, where they executed bond in the sum of $500 each, Mrs. Nellie Highland appearing as surety for Mr. Thompson and William M. Taylor for Mr. Clay. Both men were given their liberty and repaired to their respective homes.

The writ of habeas corpus is made returnable before Judge A. M. J. Cochran in Covington on the sixth day of November, when the hearing will take place. The same proceedings took place yesterday afternoon in the case of Chas. Hough, Attorney Williams remaining in Cincinnati for that purpose, he having left Paris before Hough had been arrested.

It is a fight between Republicans and from the status of the case it looks like it might be a long drawn out fight in the Courts.

Has Never Voted.

To find in the State of Kentucky, a man who has lived to be sixty-two years of age and who has never cast a vote at any election, either national, State or county, is to discover a refutation of the adage, "There is nothing new under the sun." Such a man lives, in the person of Josiah Morris, whose home is in the Woodburn section of Warren county. He was among the County Court day crowd at Franklin, Monday, and is a substantial and respected citizen. Not in the matter of exercising his right of suffrage alone is Mr. Morris unusual, for he was never identified with the courts of the State in any capacity except upon one occasion when he gave testimony as a witness in a trial suit. He is not a member of any church or fraternal organization. Mr. Morris is a refined gentleman, a reader of newspapers, and consequently well informed.

Railroad Coal Bins Empty.

The big coal bins of the Louisville & Nashville R. R. Company in this city, are now almost empty owing to an advance in the price of coal by the mine owners which the company has declined to pay. The receiving bins hold 316 car loads of coal and at this time of the year are usually full. The amount of coal necessary to supply the fifty or more engines that coal daily is something like two hundred and fifty tons, or seven car loads every day.

A Straw Vote.

At a recent reunion of the Confederate soldiers of Calloway county every veteran of the county was present. Before they adjourned they took a vote to see how many of them would support Wilson for Governor and every one said he intended to vote against him.

Farmers Determined.

Never was there such a determined effort by the farmers of Bourbon to win their fight against the Tobacco Trust than that now in progress. It seems also to be a unanimous effort. The following is an illustration of their determination:

Mr. L. J. Fretwell, who has rented his farm of 450 acres, on the North Middletown pike, to C. J. Daniel for $2,800, giving him the privilege of growing several acres of tobacco, has agreed to deduct $200 from the rent if Mr. Daniel will sign the agreement not to raise tobacco.

A number of farmers who have had yearly crops of tobacco will put in large crops of potatoes for 1908 instead of tobacco, and from the price of potatoes now it will be a money making change for them.
